

---

---

CONTENTS

VOL. 21

MARCH, 1960

NO. 5

ACS Directors at Large — Pacific Coast Area . . . . .	20
Breeding Camellias for Northern Gardens, Francis de Vos . . . . .	22
Camellias in Madeira, Mildred Blandy . . . . .	3
E. C. Tourje — Fellow A.C.S. . . . .	21
Growing Camellias in Pennsylvania, Mrs. Van Horn Ely . . . . .	5
Historical Notes on Camellias, Douglas G. Thompson . . . . .	2
Photographing Camellias, W. F. Neubert . . . . .	4
Results of The Shows . . . . .	12
Scions of the Times, Merle Gish . . . . .	6
The Rose Still Grows, A. L. Frink . . . . .	28
The Showing of the Bloom . . . . .	11
The Wonders of Camellias . . . . .	8

---

---

THE COVER PICTURE

Camellia Japonica — Old Favorites

In our never-ending search for the new and the more gorgeous we are reminded by a bloom in our garden that beauty is not a new creation. For, if the bloom be an Alba Plena (pictured on the left), we know that people have treasured its loveliness for 200 years and more — it is the greatest favorite of all Camellias. Other favorites, growing older but retaining their place in the hearts of Camellia lovers, are Prince Eugene Napoleon (shown in the center) and Mrs. Tingley (on the right).

Color Photograph Courtesy Nuccio's Nurseries

---

---