
CONTENTS

VOL. 23	OCTOBER 1961	NO. 1
Australia Society "Camellia News"		22
Camellia House of the Winter Moon, The. James T. Canizaro		4
Camellia Personalities — Leland Chow. Frank B. Anderson		16
Growing Camellias From Seeds		25
John Ilges Award		27
Know Your Southern California Nurserymen — Vern and Billie McCaskill. Ernest Pieri		11
Making Camellia Crosses. Jane Durant		14
New Southern California Introductions for 1961-1962 Season		3
Only Yesterday		23
Sasanquas Are Sun Tolerant		27
Sasanquas of Tomorrow, The. Marjorie Washburne		9
Scions of the Times. Merle Gish		21
Southern California Camellia Society Meeting Programs for 1961-1962. W. F. (Bill) Goertz		20
Story of the Huntington Cactus Garden. William Hertrich		17
Thoughts From the Editor		2
Two Camellia Collections Added to Descanso Gardens. Mark Anthony		24
When? Why? How? R. Flinn Dickson Sr.		8

THE COVER FLOWER

C. Sasanqua 'Dazzler'

This month's cover flower is 'Dazzler', one of Joe and Julius Nuccio's 1960-1961 introductions. Color is a brilliant rose red. In the opening stages the bloom appears as a formal. As it develops, however, it takes on the styling of a semi-double. It has medium size, 3 to 3½ inches, which is large for a sasanqua. Petals are heavy and substantial and the flower remains intact far better than most sasanquas. It blooms October through January. Julius Nuccio says "it is one of the few sasanquas that can be worn as a boutonniere."
