

---

---

CONTENTS

VOL. 30

OCTOBER 1968

NO. 1

"Best" Camellias in 1967-1968 California Shows . . . . .	5
California Introductions in 1968 A. H. Dekker . . . . .	3
Camellia Personalities — Harold E. Dryden Willard F. Goertz . . . . .	27
Early Show at Descanso — Jan. 4 & 5, 1969 Mildred Pitkin . . . . .	29
Gavels of Camellia Wood . . . . .	31
I'm a New Member . . . . .	28
Late Disbudding — A Reminder . . . . .	15
New Zealander Looks at Camellias, A Ben J. Rayner . . . . .	10
Observations on Camellia Show Schedules, Rules and Management Harold E. Dryden . . . . .	6
Phytophthora (Root Rot) . . . . .	9
Plant and Its Environment, The Dr. J. P. Hudson . . . . .	16
South Seas News From the Editor's Mailbag . . . . .	30
S. C. C. S. Awards Dinner at Descanso Gardens . . . . .	28
Start Now to Prepare for 1969 Grafting . . . . .	26
Thoughts From the Editor . . . . .	2
To Whom It May Concern C. W. Lattin . . . . .	12
Why Seeds? Dr. Norman Palmer . . . . .	14

---

---

THE COVER FLOWER

C. Japonica 'Grand Prix'

The people who have had the good fortune to see Nuccio's Nurseries seedlings as they have developed have looked forward with anticipation to the release of their seedling #6505, which they have named 'Grand Prix'. It is a Very Large irregular semi-double that often shows rabbit ears. The distinctive feature and the one that makes the flower stand out is the color—a deep rich red. Texture of the flower is excellent. It blooms mid-season. The shrub has the characteristics of 'Guilio Nuccio' with its dark green foliage.

---

---