THE COVER FLOWER

'BETTY GABRIEL' is a chance C. japonica seedling discovered by Dr. H. F. Gabriel in 1970 and registered in 1977. (Please read the article on page 8 of this issue.) The bloom is a large, white semi-double of cupped form with crinkled petals. The plant has a vigorous, compact, upright growth and it blooms in mid-season. Color picture courtesy of Dr. Gabriel.
