PLEASE READ BEFORE ORDERING

ALL OF OUR CAMELLIAS are container-grown and will be shipped in their containers in the state of California. Out of the state plants will be balled and wrapped in waterproof paper. Notice to residents of the states of Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia. All shipments of Camellias into these states will be bare-rooted, reballed in peat moss, burlapped and wrapped in waterproof paper. We are experienced in shipping bare-rooted Camellias and have found the above method very successful. All states requiring bare-root shipment of Camellias as listed above must be inspected and certified by the Los Angeles County Dept. of Agriculture as required by the quarantine states. The fees charged for this service are as follows and must be added to your order.

1 to 10 plants $3.00
51 to 100 plants $6.00

11 to 50 plants $5.00
101 plants or more $7.00

WE HAVE SUCCESSFULLY shipped balled and bare-rooted Camellias all months of the year, but for best results we advise shipment from mid-October through April, during which time shipments will be made weekly. From May through September shipments will only be made during the first and third weeks of each month.

ALL AZALEAS offered in this catalog are 3 years old or more and are grown in 1-gallon containers (unless otherwise specified) and will be shipped in the same in the state of California. Out of the state they will be balled and wrapped. All stock will average 5 x 8" heads (spread) with the exception of some of the Satsukis and Kurumes. These will be 6 x 6". Many of the varieties such as the Southern Indicas and Rutherfordianas will be much larger (8 x 10" and 10 x 12"). Being container grown, these azaleas can be shipped safely throughout the year. NOTICE TO RESIDENTS OF OREGON AND WASHINGTON: These states do not allow the shipment of azaleas.

GUARANTEE

We give no guarantee that our stock will live and grow; but we do guarantee our stock to be well rooted, well grown, true to name and properly packed for shipment.

Claims for shortages and errors must be made immediately upon receipt of shipment and we will gladly rectify our mistake, but in no instance will our liability be more than the purchasing price.

However our responsibility ceases upon delivery to forwarding companies and any claims for damages en route are to be made upon them by the purchaser. Risks and costs of transportation belong to purchaser.

WE ARE PROUD of our Shipping Department and we have countless complimentary letters from out-of-state purchasers of our Camellias and Azaleas. All stock is expertly and efficiently crated and packed in strong lightweight crates and tamper-proof cartons. Every order, regardless of size, is fitted into custom-built crates.

IN THE PAST years we have shipped Camellias and Azaleas throughout the United States and many foreign countries with the utmost success, and feel confident that with our experience our customers are receiving the finest quality plants as a result of the best packing and crating possible.

We are exerting every effort to produce the very best stock that can be grown, and in our 44 years of experience we believe we have never offered bigger and better values than we are this season. We secure our propagating wood from only the best type of plants, and by doing this we furnish you stock that is the best possible for you to get anywhere, regardless of price. If you will give us your order, we know you will be more than pleased with our quality plants.

TERMS OF SALE — CRATING CHARGES

Please send your remittance with your order. California customers add 6% sales tax to total. With first order be certain to use the special order blank on the back page of this catalog. Prices in this catalog are subject to change without notice and are all F.O.B. Altadena, California. Please specify the way you wish to have us make shipment (air freight, parcel post, or bus). When no instructions are given, we will ship via Greyhound Bus or Continental Trailways. On orders of $50.00 or more there is no crating charge, but if your order amounts to less than $50.00, add $7.50; if your order amounts to $15.00 or less, add $3.50 in order to help cover crating costs.

SPECIAL NOTICE: — We have found that shipping plants via Greyhound Bus and Continental Trailways to be very successful, both in time and rates. If you live in the vicinity of one of these bus lines where you can pick up your order, we advise that you consider this method of shipment. (For further details, contact your local Greyhound Bus or Continental Trailways bus station.)

Blooming season of all Camellias listed is denoted by E, M, L.

E—Early (mid-September-November); M—Midseason (December-February); L—Late (March-April)

CAMELLIA CULTURE

SOIL — Basically all camellias require the same culture. They prefer a well-drained soil that is high in humus content and just slightly acid. In preparing the soil for planting in the ground, mix equal portions of sandy loam and peat moss, by volume. If leaf mold is available, it may be used in place of peat moss.

PLANTING — Dig the planting hole twice as large as the root ball and one and one-half times as deep. Fill the bottom of the hole with the prepared soil and tamp down firmly so that the top of the root ball, when placed in the hole, is one inch ABOVE the soil surface, as there will be some settling. The only way camellias are tempermental is in the depth of the planting. The air requirement of the root is high, and when planted too deep, the roots will smother. The root crown should never be more than two inches below the surface of the soil. Fill in around the sides of the root ball with this same mixture, tamping it down firmly with the feet as you fill, then mound soil three inches high in the form of a saucer on the outside rim of the planting hole. Fill this saucer with water.

WATERING — Camellias should be moist at all times, but caution should be taken against their being WET at all times. Water well and deeply, but only as often as your own local weather conditions demand. Too much water too often will cut off the air the roots must have. During the flowering period, watering should be watched as the mature flower is 90% water and a drying out of the plant can cause small blooms as well as bud drop. Camellias will use large quantities of water during the summer growing periods. For container-grown camellias, you will generally need to fill your containers once a week in the summer, and in the winter you should be able to stretch the period to approximately ten days. On very dry days, or when the temperature rises above 85°, sprinkle the foliage and the mulch in the late afternoon.

FERTILIZING — Fertilizing or feeding should start with the first signs of growth, even though the plant is still blooming. Plants should be fed only as needed, and caution taken never to over-feed. Camellias that have been injured with over-fertilizing take several seasons of special care to recuperate. Cottonseed meal or commercial food specifically for camellias should be used. Your local nurseryman or garden shop will carry the prepared mixture best suited to your own local conditions. Follow the directions as printed on the package. If the plant is dry, water well the day before feeding—never feed a dry plant. Feed every 6 to 8 weeks from April through September.

PESTS AND DISEASE — Other than feeding and watering, camellias require very little care. Some insect and pest control is necessary to insure a healthy plant. Scale and mites are the most serious threat as they extract the plant juices and interfere with the normal development of foliage and stem growth. Generally speaking, camellias rarely need spraying, so consult your local nurseryman and make certain that spraying is necessary.

PROTECTION — C. Japonica, C. Reticulata and the hybrids need protection from hot mid-day sun. For the flower's sake, the whites and pale pinks will need more shade than the deeper colors. Shade is a very relative term; in climates where humidity is high, camellias can stand more sun than in climates that are hot and dry. C. Sasanqua is able to stand full sun even in hot dry climates, but does equally well in light shade. As to protection from cold, C. Sasanqua will stand temperatures of 10 degrees above zero to 5 degrees below zero with no injury. The japonicas will stand temperatures to 5 degrees above zero, but the complete double flower types will have buds frozen and destroyed at this temperature. C. Reticulata is recommended for very mild areas or glass house culture only. The hybrids, because they are hybrids, will vary from variety to variety as to the cold each will stand. Some of them have gone through temperatures of zero with little ill effect.

AZALEAS IN THE LANDSCAPE

No other flowering shrub has contributed more to the gardens of America than the azalea when one considers that by proper selection of varieties, color in the garden can be had from October through June. Azaleas can be handled as pot plants, mass plantings, specimens, tree types, espalier and hedges. The versatility of this plant is unlimited. However, most azaleas are at their best when planted in groups or drifts. An ideal situation for them would be among high trees so spaced as to allow the sun and light to penetrate, yet providing intervals of shade to give the plants some respite from the hot sun. Where there are not trees, the north or east side of the house or high fence would be desirable. It is true that many azaleas thrive in full sun, especially along the coastal areas, but the Southern Indians are best suited for full sun plantings.

CULTURE - SOIL — Azaleas may be grown successfully in various acid soil mixtures, such as leaf mold (redwood, pine and oak), sand and light loam, but for best results, pure peat moss or 2/3 peat and 1/3 soil plantings have proven best. The hole need not be over 15" deep and 18 to 24" in diameter. Do not set the plant lower or higher than it was originally growing. Always soak peat moss thoroughly before using. Fill around ball of plant firmly and make certain that good drainage is maintained.

WATERING — Azaleas, much like camellias, should be moist at all times, but caution should be taken against their being WET at all times. Water well and deeply, but only as often as your own weather conditions demand. In areas such as Southern California where summer months are dry and arid, one may generally expect to water once a week. Spraying of the foliage in the late afternoon of hot days is very beneficial.

FERTILIZING — Azaleas are basically light feeders and caution should be taken never to over-feed. Three to four feedings spaced from March through September (6 to 8 weeks) is sufficient. Cottonseed meal or a commercial camellia-azalea food should be used. In Southern California use a tablespoon for each feeding of a plant which is about one foot high and one foot across. The labels on your fertilizer will generally advise you to cut the amounts in half for plants in containers. Never fertilize an azalea when leaves show a yellow or paleness between the veins. This is usually caused by lack of available iron and will most often respond to application of one of the many new chelated irons. Continue the use of iron instead of fertilizer until foliage becomes green. The annual use of NUCCIO'S Stabilized Iron is recommended.

PRUNING — Heavy pruning of undesirable branches should be done when they are at their peak of bloom and used as cut flowers. Most varieties of azaleas require one good pinching or pruning of new spring growth in July, thus creating more branches and bushiness for fall bud setting. However, when plants are young and vigorous, such as the Southern Indicas, pruning on new growth should continue through September.

PEST CONTROL — Azaleas are comparatively free of insects and disease, but for good, healthy, pest-free plants, a precautionary spraying in late spring (after blooming) and fall of Malathion or Kelthane can eliminate the danger of thrips and mites.

SPECIAL

Hall of Fame Collection

This past year the Southern California Camellia Society established an award to honor a long-time camellia enthusiast and editor of the Camellia Nomenclature, William E. Woodroof. The award, known as the William E. Woodroof Camellia Hall of Fame, is given to varieties that have been grown in Southern California and have been commercially available for at least ten years. In addition, the time-tested varieties chosen for this award are judged by the following criteria:

1) Clearness of color	6) Lasting quality
2) Substance and form	7) Non-shatter tendency
3) Size as related to form	8) Plant growth and foliage
4) Manner of setting buds	9) Consistency
5) Bloom opening characteristics	10) Acceptance

For the award's initial year, ten varieties have been chosen, and we are offering this entire collection of camellia greats in 12-18" size for $39.50 (catalog value: $45.50).

NUCCIO'S SPRING CHARM — Large single. Salmony-pink. Toned deeper toward edge. Very vigorous.

NUCCIO'S SUNBURST — Brilliant orange-red, semi-double. Very compact growth with darkest green, small foliage.

NUCCIO'S WARM HEART (Mme. Alfred Sander x Gumpo) — Semi-double. Medium to large. Warm pink. Like Nuccio's Polka, fills the blooming gap between the regular spring bloom and the Satsuki bloom. Compact.

NUCCIO'S WHITE CHAMPAGNE (Developed by Toichi Domoto Nursery) — Beautiful sport of Pink Champagne. White with showy red throat. Double to hose-in-hose.

1 gal. container $3.00 each
