Nuccio’s Dragon Azaleas (6)

In our hybridizing program we have used Koromo Shikibu, a selected form of the Japanese native Azalea, Rhododendron Macrosepalum. Koromo Shibiku is a single lavender with narrow, completely separated and well-spaced petals. The offspring have carried this trait and have given us a number of very unusual, cluster blooming, spider chrysanthemum-like Azaleas, making these truly unique and eye-catching. It was our first introduction in 1999, eye-catching. It was our first introduction in 1999, Nuccio’s Purple Dragon, that has inspired us to call these the “Dragon Azaleas".

SATSUKI AZALEAS (232)

Satsuki Azaleas are truly the treasures of Japan. For several centuries Japanese have enjoyed the luxury of the Satsuki Azaleas because of their adaptability to bonsai culture. They are late blooming (May-June), and they have very dense growth habits and are excellent evergreen, spreading shrubs. Along with this, the many flower forms and many color combinations on one plant (sports) make them the ideal bonsai plants. However, we at Nuccio's Nurseries feel confident that the Satsuki Azalea will contribute greatly to our gardens as landscape and potted plants our gardens as landscape and potted plants for the same reasons they are so popular as bonsais.

Their culture is basically the same as all evergreen azaleas such as Kurumes, Belgians and Southern Indicas, etc., and they are as hardy as most Kurumes (5°) depending on age of plants, 3 to 4 years, and suddenness of temperature change.

Because of their distinctiveness and beauty, we offer the following list of varieties, selected from hundreds.

Numbering system for multi-colored Satsukis: Many of the Satsukis offered here characteristically produce several different colors of flowers on one plant. The most common pattern for such varieties is to produce three different colors: a white striped with the other two colors (which we call "#1"), a light color ("#2"), and a dark color ("#3").

While it is this erratic sporting quality that makes these varieties of Satsuki so beautiful and fascinating, it is this same quality that presents difficulties for propagators as well. We attempt to take our cuttings from stock that is the #1 version of a variety. However, because our cuttings are taken from new growth not yet bloomed, it is very possible to cut from a #2 or #3 branch. A cutting grown from a #2 branch will generally produce two colors, the light color (#2) and the dark color (#3), while a cutting taken from a #3 branch tends to produce only the dark color.
