
CONTENTS

VOL. 22

MAY 1961

NO. 6

Best of Show Round-up	11
Camellias in Oregon, Mrs. Al. E. (Mary) Johnson	7
Case of the Chlorotic Camellia, The, Marjorie Washburn	27
Couple of Californians Visit the South in Azalea Time, Harold E. Dryden	30
Developing Cold Resistant Camellias, Francis de Vos	18
Growing and Exhibiting Prize Winning Reticulata Blooms, Art and Leta Krumm	21
Hybridizing Camellias, Howard Asper	32
Index for Volume 22	32
New S. C. C. S. Officers Take Over	11
News of Societies	6
Report on Intergeneric Crosses with Camellias, A, John L. Threlkeld	15
Scions of the Times, Merle Gish	26
Shade Houses, Walter G. Hazlewood	24
Show Must Go On, The, Jerry Orlich	28
Show Results	4
Some Common Mistakes in Growing Camellias	16
Summer Care of Camellias, R. Flinn Dickson, Sr.	3
Thoughts from the Editor	2
'Tiny Princess', Another Step Forward in Inter-Specific Hybridizing, Mrs. M. J. (Lilette) Whitman	22
When? Why? How?, R. Flinn Dickson, Sr.	14

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

As incoming president I should greet you but this issue of the CAMELLIA REVIEW is really a farewell until next fall. I am not going to say farewell, however, as I hope I will be seeing my many good camellia friends all through the summer.

The 1961 board members and I are enthusiastic about next year and are making plans for another interesting season, hoping to bring you the best in programs and friendship.

This next year will not find us having the pleasure of greeting our many out-of-state camellia friends at an ACS westcoast convention but our energies will be concentrated in participating in a bigger and better show at Descanso and bringing to you a new Nomenclature Book of merit.

Southern California Camellia Society is your society; it is an outstanding society because through your efforts you have made it strong. We encourage you to bring your friends to our meetings and ideas to your board members so that together we can progress in this most fruitful hobby that specializes in friends and flowers.

WILBER W. FOSS
