
CONTENTS

VOL. 29

FEBRUARY 1968

NO. 4

Azalea Culture Harold E. Dryden	16
California Camellia Show Schedule	19
Camellia Council Sets 1969 Show Dates	29
Camellia Personalities — Tom Durrant of Tirau, New Zealand Harold E. Dryden	12
Camellia Species and Hybrids Lawrence R. Shuey and Basil Neptune	26
Citrus Fruit and Soil Conditioning	20
Early Show Snap Shots	30
I'm Still Fascinated Douglas G. Thompson	24
Let's Clear the Record . . . C. Reticulata 'Mandalay Queen' Howard E. Burnette	6
Pen Pals Desired	19
Preparing Camellia Blooms for Shows W. F. Goertz, Caryll W. Pitkin and Dr. Leland Chow	14
Some Comments on Camellia Reticulata Culture and Propagation Colonel T. Durrant	3
Some Notes on the Early History of the Camellia in California Carey S. Bliss	8
S. C. C. S. Awards Committee in Action Wilber W. Foss	5
Southern California Camellia Show Trail	18
Staking and Pruning I. John Movich	22
Temple City Society	21
Thoughts From the Editor	2

THE COVER FLOWER

C. reticulata 'Early Peony'

This month's cover flower is one of the new reticulata varieties that Colonel Tom Durrant of New Zealand obtained from China in 1964. The story is told in Colonel Durrant's article "Some Comment on Camellia Reticulata" in the January 1968 issue of CAMELLIA REVIEW. This variety will not be available in the United States for several years, certainly not until stock has been built up for its release in New Zealand.
