Cover Photo

The front cover does not do justice to a beautiful flower, 'Larry Piet'. Meyer Piet was most generous in paying for the color separations. We doctored a slide, the only one available last summer, one that had a show card and part of a show prize in the picture. As you can see, the results were poor. I couldn't determine this from the color separations. The covers were printed when I realized my mistake. Redoing them was cost prohibitive.

In order to rectify my mistake, The Southern California Camellia Society is sponsoring a contest with a $25 prize for the best 'Larry Piet' picture. It may be a color slide or a glossy photo. The picture will appear on the September-October 1993 Camellia Review cover. You may send the slide or photo to me. Please be sure your name is on the slide or picture. If a glossy picture, be careful not to use ink that will show through the paper. My address is inside the front cover.

All entries must be submitted by June 1.
